

Homework #5 Solution

1. Momentum equals mass times velocity. Mass is constant everywhere in the Universe and the question states that the velocity is the same on the earth or on the moon. So the momentum is the same!
2. Momentum is vector quantity and therefore, momenta can cancel. Energy is a scalar quantity and energies cannot cancel.